And the third day there was a mar-riage in Cana of Galliee; and the mother of Jesus was there: And both Josus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage. And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus said unto him, They have no wine. have I to do with thest mine hour is not yet come. His mother saith unto the servants. Whatsoever he saith unto you do it. And there were set there six waterpots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece.

Jesus saith unto them. Pill the waterpots with water. And, they filled them up to the brim.

And he saith unto them, Draw out new, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bure it.

When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was: (but the servants which drew the water knew.) the governor of the feast called the bride-stroom.

HE mother love is the searest thing in this world to the love of God, and it is impossible to put a money valuation on either .- Rev. W. C. Baber, of the Altura Preshytarian church

Ian McClaren said: "It would bankrupt a man to attempt to repay the love of a good mother." Most good men, men who have succeeded and have been sing to the world, give all the praise and glory to the bleased influence of a Christian mother.-Rev. C. Wesley Webdell, of Trinity Methodist church,

Jehovah is not only the strength of his people, but he is also their song; religion is not only the power, but the poetry of life.—Rev. John E. Abbott, of

Home is where mother is; she is the head and queen of the home,-Rev. Chas. L. Overstreet, of the First Presbyterian church. The sweetest and tenderest memories of life cluster around mother. The strongest and most abiding influences have come from her. If she is living she deserves the very best that we can bestow—in affection and deeds and words. If she has passed away, her memory should be cherished reverently, teaderly and gratefully.—Rev. Wallace R. Evans, of Highland Park Methodist church.

The word "Mother" has more sacred associations connected with it and awakens a readier response in all our lives than any other word in the English language.-Rev. Perry J. Rice, of the First Christian church. Christianity is not a material entity, but belongs to the realms of the spiritual. We speak of the Christian religion in terms of momentary significance instead of being cognizant of its eternal terms, which are for all ages.—Rev. Arthur C. Harris, of the English Lutheran church.

There is tremendous responsibility resting upon every parent. In assuming that responsibility every parent should become a devout Christian.—Rev. Herman G. Porter, of the First Methodist Episcopal church. Pray, for yourself and others need God's assistance and blessing. Pray, for by faith in Christ Jesus, you are a child of the Father in heaven. Pray for temporal gifts, but above all for the best gift, the holy spirit.—Rev. Paul G. Birk-mann, of the Evangelical Lutheran church, The doctrine of the deity of Jesus needs no defense. As a rule the preacher is justified in declaring it without even the suggestion of defense. Some one once said to a great anti-slavery advocate: "Let us hear the other side of the slavery question." He immediately answered: "There is no other side to the question." With unassailable precision it may be said of the deity of Christ; There is no other side to the question than the Bible side. "On Christ the solid rock I stand. All other ground is sinking sand."-Rev. J. F. Williams, D. D., of the Hear, O beaster, you are nothing without God. In him you live and move and have your being. You cannot breath without him.—Rev. Henry Easter of the church of St. Clement.

"It is not the woman, whose person is adorned with costly jewels, who is the most attractive; but the one whose character is adorned with the Christian graces.-Rev. J. H. Allen, of Austin Park Christian church.

Paith in God's word is the foundation of the Christian religion. Man may believe or not believe other books and his eternal welfare not be affected, but "what think ye of Christ?" settles the question with all. It is not enough to merely believe that God is—exists—but that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him. Faith must express itself-Rev. J. W. Dunn of the Church of Christ.

The deepest, the purest, the sweetest love God has planted within the heart of human being is the love of a true Christian mother for her children.-Rev. Ed. L. Millican, of the East El Paso Baptist church.

MOTHER MACHREE

"There's a spot in my heart, which no colleen may own, There's a depth in my soul, never sounded or known; There's a place in my memory, my life that you fill. No other can take if, no one ever will.

And the brow that's all furrowed, and wrinkled with care; I kiss the dear fingers, so toll-wern for me, Oh, God! bless you, and keep you, Mother Machines.

"I love the dear silver that shines in your hair

"Ev'ry surrow or care in the dear days gone by, Was made bright by the light of the smile in your eye. Like a candle that's set in a window at night, Your fond love has cheered me and guided me right." -Rida Johnson Young.
